CORRESPONDENCE.

[We do not hold ourselves responsible for the opinions or the utterances of our correspondents.]

EDITOR HOLOMUA:

Two persons, one in the columns of your paper, Mr. Editor signing himself Loyalist and the other signing himself T. H. Davies in the columns of the Bulletin have advocated a compromise to end "the situation as it is" and make up some kind of a mixture that will be "the situation" not "as it will be," but but as those two trimming Janus-headed milk-and-watery individuals "would like it to be." Now Mr. Editor "the situation as it is" has been made "bitter" not only by the talk, but by the actions of the P. G. and its adherents. To talk of them forming, assisting to form, or upholding a good and stable government unless they have the full sole and whole control of it, and the make-up of its personnel is like averring, that the hog is solely a gaminivorous brute or that the dog will not swallow its own vomit. It will be found impossible to arrange any compromise with those bitter adherents of the revolutionary party. They have everything to lose and nothing to gain by any such action. The moderate men of their own side would throw them over as soon as coalition was effected and this they know. They have tasted of the fleshpots and the loaves and fishes, and they don't desire to eat opposition funeral baked meats again. And even supposing such were possible, Mr. Editor, are those who have "borne the heat and burden of the day" to be thrown over to pacify a lot of rebels who have done nothing but vilify and defame the loyal supporters of the crown and constitution and injure their business and social prospects? Is this to be done to please Mr. Loyalist and Mr. Davies? Or would even that absurdly idiotic idea of the latter's, to appeal to a board of philanthropists, would even that produce such a suicidal result? No, better that we (?) should be styled and treated as a den of outlaws. Or perhaps the anxiety on Mr. Davies' part is to save the scalps official and otherwise of those who have publicly and privately decried him and proclaimed him as every kind of villain, swindler, and impious vulgar shop keeping meddler they could think of. Which may be very well for Mr. Davies' Christian spirit but doesn't go far as as common sense. No, Mr. Editor, No Surrender! No Compromise!! Turn the Rascals Out! A TRUE LOYALIST.

OFFICIAL VISIT.

His Excellency, the Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of the United States of America, paid an official visit to H. R. M. S. Champion this forenoon. He was accorded the usual salute upon leaving the vessel.

Rear Admiral John Irwin U. S. N., visited the Japanese war ship Naniwa this forenoon. Upon leaving the ship, he was accorded the usual salute.

That "citizens Protest," handed to Minister Willis by so called Americans, is very interesting. Some people have got gall.

An Impudent Night Hawk.

Last Saturday evening at about nine o'clock, one of the present "magnificent" government's night prowlers, took it upon himself to enter the premises of a resident—who is a loyalist—living on Nuuanu Avenue. What shows out the audacity of the man, is the fact, that the lady of the house was conversing with two friends, a lady and a gentleman, at the gate, when he deliberately passed by them through the gate into the yard. He was allowed to proceed several feet, before being hailed.

The man did not pay any attention, and it was not, until the gentleman followed him that he halted. When asked his business and what he was doing on the premises, his reply was "That's my business, not yours." The man was otherwise very impudent and insulting. Later in the evening, the master of the house on returning home found his wife in an excited state of mind at the gateway talking of the matter to some friends. Who after receiving a description of the man, which tallied with that of a spy who he had just seen standing on the corner of Kukui and Nuuanu streets; he walked down the Avenue and met the spy walking up. The spy was stopped and given a good reprimanding, also fair warning not to be seen on those premises again. The man was evidently a German, and could not speak English properly.

Since the above was written, we have heard further complaints about spies entering private premises. Last evening one of them walked into the yard of a gentleman living on King street, went up on to the verandah of the house, and peeped through the blinds of the door. Two of the occupants—ladies—of the house were sitting in the shade in the corner of the verandah, so of course were not seen by the spy.

A Royalist Ram!

The Reverend (?) Sereno was out surveying the other day. He wanted the meets and boundaries of some two patches on which he presumably desired to lend some money. As his head is getting weak and the remnants of his brains will melt if exposed to the sun, he hired a kanaka to carry an umbrella over him to protect him from the rays of the sun as well as from the odium of the Loyalists.

Grasing around the two-patches was a well-developed ram—evidently with royalist tendencies. Seeing that Father Bis. was taking in a little too much land from the neighboring kanaka the ram made a right royal attack and landed its horns on the principal part of the reverend surveyor (his resting pillows) with the effect that the journalistic surveyor capsized with an oath, the kanaka with a jump into the taro-patch. And still the Friend comes out—and so did the ram—out of the mud.

Evening sale at the salesroom of Jas. F. Morgan at 7 o'clock.

His Excellency Robert W. Irwin, H. H. M's Minister resident at Tokio, Japan, arrived to-day on the steamer Oceanic. He went from the steamer to the U. S. S. Philadelphia, to visit his brother Rear Admiral Irwin.

"Hawaii Ponoi."

Cleveland Endorsed.

The indications are that the Hawaiian episode is in its final chapters with the denouement—the restoration of the queen of the unpronounceable name—foreshadowed. The democratic administration of this country, by its course in this affair, so markedly different from that of its predecessor, has but followed out the American national policy of neutrality and non-interference in the affairs of other governments. In the present case is the conduct of President Cleveland and his official associates the more commendable because they preserved the dignity of the republic and came just in time to prevent its being made a cat's paw by unscrupulous speculators, who would from mercenary motives deprive the Sandwich islands of a government which, it seems, is satisfactory and suitable to the majority of their inhabitants.—Cahkosh Times.

THE BEGGAR-MAID.

"I like it not, my lord," she said:
"That you should say with brow serene:
"This beggar-maid shall be my queen."
I am a woman, and as one,
Like other maids, I would be wooed and won."

The king bowed down his crested head
"My fair one have your way," he said:
"Wilt be our bride?" The court grew still,
While with orbs'neath fringed lashes gazing up, she said:
"My lord, you bet your life I will."

What He Escaped.

When Columbus landed on our shores,
A reporter, with bold effrontery,
Did not accost the Italian with:
"Say, Chris., how do you like our Country?"

My son, be conservative It is better to be a good dry-goods clerk than to plunge into literature, for the law compels people to wear clothes, but does not compel them to read poetry.
